

press release

July 1, 2005

Trilogy Leasing included in the 'Monitor 100'

Trilogy Leasing is proud to announce its inclusion in the Monitor 100, a listing of the 100 largest leasing companies in the United States. This listing is produced annually and identifies the players who are having an impact in the industry.

Jeff Liebenthal, President and CEO of Trilogy Leasing, commented 'Trilogy is extremely excited with this announcement. We find ourselves on the same list with industry stalwarts such as GE Commercial Finance, Citicapital, IBM Global, Bank of America Leasing, Boeing Capital and HP Financial Services. Many companies who have been in the technology leasing industry for many years have never received this distinction and several companies who were previously included in the Monitor 100 are no longer present. Trilogy has accomplished this feat in just our fifth full year of operations. Less than 20% of the entities included are independent leasing companies. The vast majorities are subsidiaries of banks or captive finance organizations. Independent leasing companies bring flexibility and an unbiased approach that is oftentimes not possible from captives or subs of banks. We have gained this position in the industry while not sacrificing quality. Trilogy has had five years of increasing revenues and profits.'

Trilogy Leasing is a private company based in Cranbury, NJ specializing in the leasing of IT, telecommunications and other capital equipment.